

A conceptual illustration of a balance scale, symbolizing justice and ethics. The scale is a light blue structure with two pans. Each pan contains a blue silhouette of a human head in profile, facing right, with a white circle inside the head containing a blue icon of a balance scale. The scale is surrounded by various colorful icons and arrows. On the left side, there is a yellow speech bubble with a scroll, a red speech bubble with three dots, a blue speech bubble with a person at a desk, and a green speech bubble with three people. On the right side, there is a purple speech bubble with a classical building, a green speech bubble with a person and an equals sign, a red speech bubble with a handshake, and a yellow speech bubble with a hand on a document. Arrows indicate relationships: a yellow arrow points from the red speech bubble to the orange speech bubble; a grey arrow points from the blue speech bubble to the red speech bubble; a green arrow points from the green speech bubble to the orange speech bubble; a red arrow points from the green speech bubble to the red speech bubble; a grey arrow points from the purple speech bubble to the green speech bubble; and a grey arrow points from the purple speech bubble to the yellow speech bubble. The entire illustration is set against a white background.
